ELL Scholarship

Project Description (1-2 paragraph summary) *

Carly Triplett, class of 2007, has recently accepted a position with Roosevelt to serve as our Journalism and ELL teacher. She has to take additional classes to earn her ELL endorsement, which will cost $1500 a class. She will be investing thousands of dollars to return home to be a teacher at Roosevelt. She is leaving stability to join our team. The school has NO support for teachers wanting to get their ELL endorsement any longer (a program was phased out recently). As such, we'd like a scholarship to be given to Carly to help her earn her ELL endorsement. The scholarship would cover the cost of only one of her classes. She would still be on the hook for thousands of dollars out of pocket. This is an opportunity to create a scholarship for TRHS alum who are teachers/coaches at Roosevelt who need professional credentials. You have sponsored conferences before which are used for Continuing Education credits, so I feel there is a precedent that's been (loosely) established.
